The Chestnuts,
Sudbury,
Harrow.

Ap. 27. 97

Dear Prof Thompson

Could you look round at the Leathersellers Hall on Friday. as I want to arrange about the Electric current. Drake & Gorham are going to bring in an extra main & want to know the quantity & position wanted by the Exhibitors. The morning or afternoon will suit me, but I should like to know the time.

Yours truly
W. H. Perkin

DSI

SUDBURY–L.N.W.R. 1 MILE.
HARROW–MET. 2 MILES.

The Chestnuts,
Sudbury,
Harrow.

June 19. 1908

Dr Perkin has much pleasure in sending the kind invitation of the President & Council of the Soc. Chem.
Industry to dinner at the
Holborn Rest. on Wednesday
Feby 12. 1905.

DR. WM. H. PERKIN

5834 PERKIN (Sir William Henry, F.R.S., discoverer of aniline dyes, 1838-1907) A.L.S. (W. H. PERKIN), The Chestnuts, Sudbury, Harrow, Ap. 27 97, to 'Dear Prof. [Silvanus P.] Thompson,' 1 page 8vo., 15*s*

LONDON BOTHERAN

52

'Could you look round at the Leathersellers Hall on Friday as I want to arrange about the Electric Current.' . . .

in some way robs him of his due, and which he appears to look upon as part of a general conspiracy to wrong him.' . . .

5816 NASMYTH (James, inventor of the steam-hammer, 1808-90) A.L.S. (JAMES NASMYTH), Fireside, Patricroft, May 24, 1845, to Alfred Sorby, 4 closely written pages 8vo., £1, 10*s*

Advising his correspondent which are the most remarkable places in France to be visited, but warning him against his proposed stay in Boulogne, 'that miserable resort of cockneys and scamps.'